Survey Research Consulting

Design, Management, Expertise

Lee Research Consulting (LRC) provides a broad range of survey research expertise. The organization is led by Robert H. Lee, who has over 40 years of survey research consultation experience in both the private sector, and at major university survey research units.

Among the services LRC can help with:

- Research design (all modes)
- Questionnaire development
- Proposal development
- Quality control
- Training (design, implementation, evaluation)
- Operations management
- Writing services (proposals, tech reports, analyses, copyediting, etc.)

Mr. Lee has directed the survey research activities at major universities and was a leader in the development of AASRO (<https://www.aasro.org/2008/03/01/aasro-annual-meeting-march-6-8-2008/>), and knows the special challenges university-based survey research units face.

LRC offers a discount of up to 50% to academic survey research organizations.*
